

MRS. MARY E. ROACH, of Lynchburg, Va., who says Tanlac is her favorite medicine and that she will always keep it on hand as it enabled her to enjoy three years of good health.

Tanlac has been the favorite medicine in my cabinet for three years, said Mrs. M. E. Roach, of 402 Clay street, Lynchburg, Virginia, in an interview, recently.

"At the time I began taking Tanlac," explained Mrs. Roach, "I had been suffering from indigestion, rheumatism and other troubles for nine years and could find nothing to help me. If I ventured to eat anything the least bit heavy I would bloat up with sour gas and almost smother. My heart would palpitate frightfully and when these spells came on me I was so dizzy and weak I could hardly stand up. I often had to stop and rest while doing my housework. I was badly constipated and hardly ever free of headache. I also suffered with rheumatism in my fingers and especially in cloudy, rainy or snowy weather my pain was almost unbearable. My kidneys and liver were out of order and I had the worst kind of pain in my back, legs and shoulders. I had no appetite and what little I did eat seemed to do me more harm than good, as I always suffered afterwards and had become so run-down, weak and miserable that I sometimes felt like life was hardly worth living.

"One day I read a testimonial for Tanlac that seemed so sincere that I decided to see if the medicine would help me. Well, the first bottle did me so much good that I got another, then another and so on until my troubles all disappeared. As I said, that was three years ago, and I have been able to keep myself in good health ever since by taking a few doses of Tanlac now and then as I feel the need of it. Tanlac has built me up and given me strength and energy so that my housework is easy for me. It makes life worth living, for it keeps me with a good appetite, helps me to digest my food properly, and, by relieving me of all suffering and nervousness, enables me to sleep soundly every night. I shall always praise Tanlac."

Father and Sons Night by Scout Troup Success

Members of Boy Scout Troup 22 entertained their fathers at a "Father and Sons" night at the First Ward amusement hall last night. A thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent, and a program of drill and games in which everybody joined, was made more delightful by addresses delivered by Hugh Holdaway, deputy commissioner of the Boy Scout organization, and G. S. Steele.

The fathers promised that they would organize a party for the boys in which the older men would take the responsibility of the evening's entertainment.

A WONDERFUL HELP

At Two Stages of Life Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Mrs. Fairburn Strong And Well.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the dropsical effect which so often develops at such times. It helped me wonderfully. That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound."

Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day and seldom had dizzy fainting spells. I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and be strong.' I will be glad to have you use my name if it will be the means of helping any one."

Mrs. R. A. Fairburn, 606 Orchard Knob Avenue, Chattanooga, Tenn.

For forty years this famous root and herb medicine has been pre-eminent in successful in controlling the diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood this test of time.

Tris Speaker leads Ty Cobb in the

The figures do not necessarily mean that Cleveland leader is a better all-around player than the Peach, but that, in all-around value to his team he is head of Cobb. He leads by only four little points, it is true, but those four points indicate that he is the premier center fielder. Cobb still hangs it on his rival in attacking power, which includes hitting, waiting, sacrificing, long driving, speed and base stealing, but his slight lead in that respect is more than overcome by Speaker's present superiority in fielding and especially in throwing.

The others of the American league center fielders do not come near ranking with these two, although Babe Ruth's great power in long-distance hitting achieves for him third place in the lists, just a little ahead of Clyde Milan, who, while losing points each season, still manages to rank among the top notchers.

Hap Felch has dropped back and probably will slump even further. He probably never will make good the great promise he gave during his early career, and a rapid degeneration in his work may be expected unless he secures a change of berth.

The American league has for years had most of the class among the center fielders, largely, of course, because of Cobb, Speaker and Milan, and now the National suddenly appears to be developing the leading stars while the great American leaguers are wearing out slowly. Ronsh lands at the top of the class in the league, due to his hitting power largely. He is a rather crude ball player in some respects, but a great one in spite of flaws in his work.

And just back of Roush come those surprising Pirates and Cards again. This deeper one gets into the dope the more promising those teams seem to be. Of course, when the pitching figures are in they may not rank up close, but on the regular team studies they certainly are showing surprising strength.

Carey is a really great ball player now, and just about at his prime. With the spur of a chance to win to aid his work, he ought to show a big year.

Heathcote is a great ball player and one of the coming stars of the game. He almost arrived last season and ought to improve.

The Giants have had the call among the center fielders for some seasons, but there are no doubts signs that B. Kauff is no longer great, and probably not even near great from now on. He may rally by starts, but the class is not there now, if it ever was. Statz is a comer, and the figures given are a combination of Kauff and Statz.

There is considerable uncertainty as to Kauff anyhow, and I may have to amend the figures. McGraw may trade him to strengthen his tottering infield.

Chicago stands up fairly well. I am figuring that Davey Robertson will show what he can do in Cub uniform. He appears more satisfied with his berth in Chicago than he was under McGraw, and if he has the right sort of encouragement he certainly can play this old game.

Paskert is not all in, and as a relief hitter he adds to Robertson's figure values.

The center field position is quite satisfactorily filled on every one of the 16 clubs, and the strength is fairly well distributed in both leagues.

In the next article we will study the right fielders, and then complete the preliminary dope on the regular teams. After that we will tackle the catchers and pitchers, where the great strength or weakness of any team is to be found.

STATE PROHIBITION ARMED MEN ATTACK WARNS DRUGGISTS POLICE BARRACKS IN AND PUBLIC ERIN, BOMBS USED

In order to warn druggists and inform the public concerning the dangers inherent in extracts, substitutes and imitations which contain more than one half of one per cent alcohol by volume, Mathonihah Thomas, federal prohibition director for Utah, is sending out the following letter to druggists and merchants of the state:

"So many reports have come to this office relative to the sale of extracts, substitutes and imitations which are being sold as intoxicating beverages, I deem it advisable to call your attention to the provisions of the national act which state that any person who shall knowingly sell, manufacture, distribute, or otherwise dispose of denatured alcohol or denatured medicinal preparations, manufactured in accordance with the formulae prescribed by the United States Pharmacopoeia and National Formulary, or the American Institute of Homeopathy, patented, toilet, medicinal, and antiseptic preparations, and solutions for beverage purposes, or extract or sirup for medicinal purposes, or any other preparation, or any other article, which is used as an ingredient, shall be subject to the penalties provided in the prohibition act.

A Few Penalties.

"Penalties covering the first offense are a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1000, or be imprisoned not exceeding six months, and for the second or subsequent offense shall be fined not less than $200 nor more than $2000, and be imprisoned not less than one month or more than five years.

"Merchants must not underestimate their responsibility in the sale of extracts, substitutes and imitations containing more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume and are being used by young as well as old men for beverage purposes.

Strict Enforcement.

"Sheriffs, county attorneys and county commissioners are urged to see that the law is strictly enforced as the sale of such liquor is not merely an offense under the federal but under the state law. The use of extracts, substitutes and imitations for beverage purposes is a growing menace. Warning should be at once served upon all merchants to desist in the sale of extracts, substitutes and imitations for beverage purposes, of alcohol, where the merchants have reason to believe that same are being used for beverage purposes.

"I will appreciate any report of infraction, giving names, places and a full account of the incident where intoxication has occurred. All state officers are urged to cooperate in the stamping out of this menace."

Public Health Service Films Ready to Ship

The Utah Public Health Service has two films, "Jinks" and "The Modern Health Crusade," which will be shipped to any part of the state by John W. Jacobs, executive secretary, 120 East First South street, Salt Lake.

"Jinks" is a one-reel comic story telling the adventures of a sick man with the enemies of his health.

House of Commons Passes Second Reading of Irish Home Rule Measure

SKIBBEREEN, County Cork, Ireland, March 31.—More than 100 armed men attacked the police barracks at Durrus, seven miles southwards of Bantry, County Cork, with rifles and petrol bombs last night. A portion of the building was blown up and two policemen were wounded, one serious. After a fierce fight the raiders, some of whom are believed to have been wounded, were driven off.

LONDON, March 31.—The house of commons passed the second reading of the home rule bill today. The vote was 348 to 94.

LONDON, March 30.—Herbert H. Asquith in the house of commons today described the Irish home rule bill as a "cumbersome duplication and multiplication of institutions and offices," adding that "from the viewpoint of efficiency there is nothing to be said for it."

Mr. Asquith recalled that in 1914 he gave a pledge that Ireland should have one parliament and declared that he adhered to that view now. He disagreed, he said, with those who believed that there could be no constitutional changes until order had been restored, and asserted that the root of the trouble could not be gotten at until there was a wide reform in the government system.

The substitution of this bill for the measure on the statute books, Mr. Asquith continued, took from the Irish what the majority of them wanted in one form or another and attempted to force on them something the great majority disliked and would always refuse to accept.

He advocated amending the 1914 home rule act, enlarging the powers of the Irish parliament and executive so as to give them to all intents and purposes the status of a dominion. Mr. Asquith said he still believed in the expediency of county option for Ulster, whereupon Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, asked the speaker if he favored county option for the south of Ireland. Mr. Asquith answered in the affirmative.

"Then we can have a Sinn Fein county," retorted Sir Edward.

Son of Brigham Young Dies in Salt Lake

SALT LAKE, March 31.—Alfred Young, 66, son of the late Brigham Young, died at his home, 67 E street. Death was caused by a complication of diseases.

He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Ada C. Young, and by four sons, A. B. S. M. Percival and Marshall Young. He retired January 1, 1920, from the position of telegraph editor of the Deseret News. During the '90s he was city editor of the Salt Lake Herald.

Mr. Young was a native of Salt Lake and he spent his whole life here.

UTAH IS ON THE THRESHOLD OF A TREMENDOUS BOOM!

The U. S. Bureau of Mines, Bulletin No. 619B, estimates that northeastern Utah contains 42,800,000,000 barrels of oil in the oil shales. And leading geologists and petroleum engineers declare that underlying these shale beds are the thickest oil sands ever discovered in the history of the world.

The Government Oil Leasing Bill opens up 6,758,000 acres of oil land for development. One-fourth of this entire acreage—1,662,000 acres—is situated in Utah! This state is destined to be the great oil field in the world!

The Gustaveson Oil Company owns 8,000 acres of the most promising oil lands in Utah and IS NOW ON THE VERGE OF STRIKING OIL!

Three wells, which have already shown oil and gas, are going deeper daily. We fully expect within sixty or ninety days to be in the rich liquid oil sands and possibly bring in a gusher.

5 CENTS a Share

A SPECIAL OFFER

Those who invest now will receive stupendous returns when the boom comes. To those who help us push these wells to the oil which is just below we make this special offer:

If you use the attached coupon at once to order this stock at 5c a share we will guarantee to deliver to you an equal amount of stock when we strike oil at 5c a share, no matter how high the market price may be at that time.

Once oil is struck, Gustaveson Oil Company stock will be in great demand. It will without a doubt be worth many dollars a share, and yet if you invest now you will be able to double your holdings at exactly the same price you pay now—5c a share!

So confident are our drillers that we are on the very crest of the great oil beds that they all quit their jobs last week and came in to purchase more stock, in spite of the fact that almost 50 per cent of their earnings are already taken in stock at 5c a share.

THREE OF THE MOST PROMISING WELLS IN UTAH

In Salt Valley, Utah—the Moab Field—we own 5,000 acres of land. On this property we have one well down 800 feet and we fully believe that at 1,200 feet we will strike oil.

In Diamond Fork Canyon, near Castilla Springs, Utah, we own 3,000 acres. Here we have two wells, one 973 feet deep and the other 515 feet deep, both of which have made splendid showings of gas and oil at different depths. The possibilities for a gusher in this field are extremely good. Both fields are on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad.

The men who made the greatest fortunes in Texas and other fields were those who purchased stock before oil was struck. Do not delay, for we may strike oil at any time, and when we do, Utah's oil boom will commence.

Send the attached coupon with your order today!

The following trustworthy and reliable business men and women—each leader in their respective line—have put their money and their faith in the oil wells of the Gustaveson Oil Company, and are only a few of our fourteen hundred stockholders scattered in a dozen states of the Union and in Europe, Japan, Canada, Mexico, Cuba and Hawaii.

A MOTHER SONG BY STRACCIARI

"Dear Little Boy of Mine" is a mother song sung for Columbia Records this month by Riccardo Stracciari, the great Italian baritone. It portrays the pangs of separation from a son, and Stracciari sings it with deep feeling. His own boy was in the war and is now at Vladivostok with the Italian army.

The first duet sung by the Fonzelli Sisters—Rosa and Carmela—for Columbia Records is the beautiful "Barcarole" from the "Tales of Hoffman." It was Carmela's rich mezzo-soprano which attracted attention to their singing, and it is heard beautifully with the now famous Rosa's pure dramatic soprano. Carmela may possibly follow her sister to the stage of the Metropolitan opera house, New York.

Oscar Seagle sings "Mah Lindy Lou," a rich, resonant, negro love melody well suited to his baritone voice. As a boy he used to tramp the mountains of Tennessee with his father, who was a lay preacher, and led the singing at his father's meetings among the southern negroes.

Mexican Murderer Is Denied Pardon by State

The state board of pardons yesterday denied the petition of Mike Bacca, Mexican, who is serving a 45-year sentence on a charge of murder committed on the body of Benny Rogers of Ogden in August, 1917.

The body of Rogers was found on the river bottoms at the foot of Thirtieth street and confession of a companion of Bacca resulted in the Mexican's apprehension. The murder was one of the most harrowing in Ogden police annals. Rogers' body was horribly mutilated by knife wounds.
